Dear Hiring Manager,

I am currently a Frontend Development student at Noroff School of Technology, and I am seeking opportunities where I can apply and further develop my skills in web development.

Before starting my studies, I spent over 10 years working at PwC within risk management and finance operations. In these roles, I gained strong experience in client onboarding, data management, and structured business processes. This has given me a solid foundation in working systematically, solving problems, and maintaining high attention to detail.

Transitioning into frontend development is a deliberate and long-considered decision for me. I am motivated by building user-friendly and accessible digital solutions, and I enjoy combining creativity with logical problem-solving. I am currently building my skills in HTML, CSS and JavaScript through both studies and personal projects.

I would appreciate the opportunity to contribute to a team while continuing to grow as a developer.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
